THE ATLANTIC WHITE LEAD. the least degree, to the improvement of the Lead, having availed themselves of every modern improvement for that purpose.

Being well aware, from our long familiarity with the different leads sold in our market, that by far the greater proportion sold as such has been, and still is greatly adulterated with Baryten, an article of mineral production much heavier than White Lead, and in itself possessing no virtue of any pigment whatever, it being, when mixed with oil, almost transparent, and in fact having nothing but its apecific weight to seconmend it, the Trusves of the Atlantic White Lead Company have passed, nuanimously, the following resolution, vir:

"Besolved, That in view of manufacturing only a prime article, the Atlantic White Lead, both Dry and Ground in Oil; that to be a strictly pure, geomies article, and perfectly free from any adulteration whatever, which the Company will warrant as such to all who may purchase their Lead."

Purchasers, therefore, may be well assured that every dependence may be placed in the purity of every pound of White Lead manufactured and sold by the Company, which pureness will not only tend to the greater durability of the Faint, but will be found much more economical in it use, even in the most common description of painting, oving to the body or evering quality iposesses, thereby giving a far bester finish with two objet, than the adulteration white fair would with three objet, than the adulteration finite fair would with the company also manufacture Red Lead and Litharge, and the Company also manufacture Red Lead and Litharge, and another should be directed to us.

The Company also manufacture Red Lead and Litharge, and another should be directed to us.

ARTICLES,

WHOLESALE AND REVAIL.

THE subscriber, who exhibited at the late Fair of the American Institute, the much admired display of choice Perfumery and Toilet Sans, and who was there awarded, by the bonorable judges, a Golden Medal, has opened an establishment in this city at No. 199 Broadway, where he offers a speciality of Perfumery not to be surpassed either in Europe or America. He would remark that his Perfumery has the great advantage over the foreign of being freshly prepared, and that the unfragalled opportunities he emjoyed of learning his art in the Laboratory of Laugier Pere et File, of which he was for many years the director, guarantees his possession of a skill equal to that of any European Perfumer.

A complete assortment of choice articles of the most celebrated foreign houses, will at all times be kept on hand, thus enabling his customers to compare and to choose, such he has enabling his customers to compare and to choose, such he has enabling his customers to compare and to choose, such he has enabling his customers to compare and to choose, such he has enabling his customers to compare and to choose, such he has enabled foreign houses, will at all times be kept on hand, thus enabling his customers to compare and to choose, such he had not an entire to the provider of the hair. These miracles he leaves to others, but he does pretend to offer TOILET BOAPS, so scientifically compounded that no unnestry lined alkali remains to first the inout delicate skin. and he offers a most elegant preparation, so highly recommended by an accomplished authores of America, his AMARNINE, which will prevent or cure the most inveterors chapping of the skin.

He offers his unrivalled SHAVING CREAM, an article He offers for the head, OILS, ESSENCES, FOR A SUGGE and WASHES, possessed of various properties, some designed to beautify and cleause the healthy harracone to cure disordered action of the Scalp; some of southing emoluser properties for the irritable head; others atimulating and tonic to the debilitated Scalp, impaired in its fauctions by sickness are other causes. These remedies, compounded with well-know Physiological principles, frequently restore the hair, stop it falling when its loss does not arise from a destruction of the or gaus of the hair, and are not to be confounded with the thou sand nontrum so absancessaly surranted to care in all casestis BEAR, S OIL, he assures the public, is perfectly genus when represented as such, and is prepared, by an application; heat, so careful as not to endanger the petuliar organization, virtue of which it differs from other substances of a similar character.

For the quality of his goods, he can refer to Messra. Aspinavall, Milhau, Chilton, and many others of the most respectable chemists of this city, who for the last several years have vanded articles of his mannfacture.
Finally, everything at his store will be as represented, and if my article does not give full satisfaction, it will not only willingly, but also thankledly be taken back. The subscriber is auguous to acquire for his establishment a character for versity and good faith, when, from the nature of the articles, there is so much room for misrepresentation, and he sujoins it upon all in his empley to maintain the same atherence for truth and good faith. THE Mabscriber returns his thanks to his friends and the public for the very liberal patronage extended to him since the opening of his Store in New York. Premising that in Perfumery the manus should prevail, "either the best or none," he extreetly solicits one moment's attention to he following very intelligible proofs that he is capable of offering the very best, whether the competition be foreign or American. Ist. He possesses unequalled advantages in Faris, in having bean for many vears Director of the Laboratory of Langier Fere et Fills, for half a century the first house in this line in Europe. 2nd Since the first exhibition, some years past, of his Perfumery, it has, without a single exception, obtained in New York, Bouton and Philadelphia, the First Fremium over all competitors, and at the last exhibition in New York, he was honored with the Gold Medal never before awarded to Perfumery. The His Perfumery has banished the imported whenever it has some fairly into competition. This is emphatically the case with his Sharing Cream. Why should it also that the state of fabrication, who had the state of the previous property of the previous property. The His Perfumery for the foreign schools, imported with his harding to their periabable nature, the His prices are from 30 to 30 per cent lower. In fine, the subscriber, educated in the best foreign schools, imported with him the science and skill of his native city, offers the products of his laboratory, equal to the best imported, and superior to them from the advantage of recent preparation, at much lower prices. He, therefore, flatters husself that his preparations must of necessity supercede the imported, except with those who are so unreasonable as to prefer articles and his decreased and seven and the superiber always keeps on hand a perfect assertment of the best foreign perfumery, and offers at his store an capportunity of comparing the two, and of purchasing according to the judgment of preference of his individual.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE BY THE MAILS.

Highly Interesting from Washington. The Flare up and the Probable Results.

THE OREGON QUESTION.

Washingron, March 6, 1846. Excitement prevails, in the political circles of this metropolis, to the greatest extent. Every one is talking of the explosion which took place yesterday in the ranks of the administration in the Senate, and which almost leaves Mr. Polk in the same position as that in which Mr. Tyler was left by the whigh at the extra session of 1841. The breach in the democratic ranks on the Oregon question, which began on the one side by Mr. Haywood, and on the other on the one side by Mr. Haywood, and on the other by Mr. Allen, is, I believe, irremediable. The vic-ence and feeling which prevail between these two ultra sections cannot be described nor conceived. By the war party Mr. Polk is denounced in the se-verest terms for coquetting with both sections—on the 49th parallel, with one, to-day, and on 54 40 the 49th parallel, with one, to-day, and on 54 40 with the other to-morrow.

The war which began yesterday, will be continued throughout the whole of next week, and when it will end, no one knows. Both sections declare positively that Mr. Polk has been talking and confiding in them, according to their several positions occupied on the Oregon quistion. The disappointed section are ready, and do, denounce him with the authors with the property strikence and assertive. The effect of ed section are ready, and do, denounce him with the utmost virulence and asperity. The effect of this explosion and breach in the Administration, upon the negotiation, supposed to be pending yet between the Secretary of State and Mr. Pakenham, will soon be seen, notwithstanding the statements too. have appeared in the newspapers, and by the state, writers, in relation to this subject. There is no authentic information sufficient to produce the belief either that the British government on their two. writers, in relation to this subject. There is no authentic information sufficient to produce the belief, either that the British government, on their part, have commenced negotiations again; or, that the American Government have renewed them, on their part. There might have been, on a former occasion; but, I do not believe that any one can state positively, or on his belief, that negotiations have been re-commenced. In the present state of feeling between the President and parties, it is doubted whether the negotiation will proceed at all; such is the confusion and uncertainty that so universally prevail. Some, supposing that Mr. Polk, is anxious to dispose of the whole matter, now believe that he is preparing, in time, to send it to the Senate, with the offer of the 49th parallel, in order to have it settled this season. Others think he will not have moral courage enough to attempt any such thing, in the face of the party that go for the whole of Oregon up to 54 40.

This rupture in the democratic ranks is far more important, and will lead to more extraordinary results, even than that which took place between Tyler and the whigs was in reference to a national question, unconnected with our foreign relations—namely, the bank question. The question now between the President and his party, on the Oregon, involves "peace" or "war" with England—the settlement of the tariff question—the fate of Texas—and our policy in relation to Mexico. The Oregon—or 54 40—men, denounce their antagonists with the greatest bitterness, and allege that the whole has been produced by intrigue with the British Minister, so that the President has become the victim to their arts and seduction.

On the whole, I think that Mr. Polk's position is extremely embarrassing; nor, can I see, as yet, any possibility of his escaping from the dilemma into which he has been forced.

Master Burke, the new violinist, gave a concert here last evening, which was remarkably well attended. He acquitted himself with great skill, and displayed much tale

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7, 1846

The "flare up" in the |Senate, in the democratic ranks, on Thursday last, is still the talk of the of the President here have been endeavoring to sooth down asperities—to conciliate difficulties, and close up the breach. Whether they will succeed remains to be seen. The rupture may be patched up for a short time, for the elements of difference existing in the administration ranks are radically in terwoven with the very existence and position of the democratic party now. From all I can hear and see democratic party now. From all I can hear and see I think it probable that the steam will moderate, thus, for some little time—that the leaders have succeeded in averting the widening of the breach, for time; but, I believe, it will not last long. At all events, another week will develope a clearer view of the singular and extraordinary position of the President and his party in Congress. The ultra Oregon party will not recede from their position. They will insist, in public and in private, on their ultimatum of 54 40, and take the ground against all compression and pagetistics.

ultimatum of 54 40, and take the ground against all compromise and negotiation.

The President uniformly, I believe, expresses himself decidedly convinced of the superiority of the claims and rights of the United States to the whole territory; but he still considers himself as committed by the action of his predecessors to reasonable compromise on the 49th parallel. There is, therefore, a double attitude in the mind of the President, which constates adversely to the extreme sonable compromise on the 49th parallel. There is, therefore, a double attitude in the mind of the President, which operates adversely to the extreme views as to 54.40—his position in relation to the Presidency, together with the prospects of peace, and the commercial advantages which will result to the country by a settlement of the question on the basis of 49. What the result may be in these matters, a few short fweeks will determine. At all events, nothing as yet has occurred to alter the position of things in relation to the negotiation. I put not the slightest confidence in the idle rumors relative? to the resumption of the negotiations—the grounds upon which these rumors have been set affoat, or the transmission to England of ultimatums or offers upon this question.

It is probable, that, before the question is disposed of in the Senate, the President will communicate some important message to Congress on this subject.

I understand that an article which appeared in the Daily Times yesterday, charging the Senators with collusion, corruption, and treason, relative to the Oregon question will be brought before the Senate on Monday next. Thus article is also very severe on Mr. Pakenham, the British Minister, alleging that he has been seducing the Senators, by his dinners and wines, away from 54.40. I know not how this may be—but I do know of one shocking offence which Mr. Pakenham has committed, and which is sufficient cause for insisting on 54.40. He has given no splendid ball to the ladies this season, like that of Mr. Buchanan's, and accordingly he is obnoxious to great censure, and should be recalled by Queen Victoria.

To-day the celebrated Leopold De Meyer arrived in town, and soon after paid his respects to Mrs. Polk in the manners, style, and perfect ease of the reception.

Wassungros, March 7, 1846.

Washington, March 7, 1846.

The Exact Position of the President.

There is a mollifier in the Union of last night; a sort of "make it up, gentlemen of the Senatewhat's the use of fighting, and splitting hairs over the President's Message?" Whether they will make it up though, is a brown horse of another color. We are airsid it will take more than three days for Allen and Hannegan to cool down. We are airsid, also, that there is a birch in soak for Robinson of the Times, late Fisk of the Journal, late John Jones of the Madisonian. Father Ritchie says to Haywood: "Come, now, doe't do so." The Times says, "kick the d—d rascal out of the church." The President says, or his father confessor is authorized to say for him, "Messre. Hannegan and Allen, shake hands with Haywood—you are all my friends; and I am with you always, either for 49, or 54 40; but I shan't say which." And that's precisely where we stand. That's the exact position of the President, to a decimal.
